

Plastic Packaging for Sensitive Beverages Training Seminar

PTI offers an opportunity to be trained by innovators in the PET packaging industry. Learn from their over 25 years of experience in the fields of PET containers, barrier, recycling and aseptic technologies.

The Plastic Packaging for Sensitive Beverages training seminar will provide key information on sensitive beverages, filling technologies, aseptic filling requirements, as well as the design of packaging for this demanding application.

This 2-day seminar focuses on PET as a packaging medium, other materials such as PP and bioplastics will be discussed. This seminar provides detailed technical information. However, the seminar is balanced to provide those attendees with a technical or business/marketing responsibilities a good basis of knowledge.

We will cover the basics of non-carbonated packages, compatibility of the packages with sensitive beverages and associated filling technologies

A recommended prerequisite is for attendees to have a basic knowledge of PET, its properties and processing. We offer this training in our 'Technology & Application of PET seminar.
